Moe♥

Whiz!

This robot says it wants to draw a picture of you.

It's a valuable opportunity. Please do so.

I named this robot Misube NOVA 2nd!!

Pay attention to here!

This is a drawing robot that I invented. It's equipped with an AI that can think completely independently.

What does that pose mean?

Hmm... I'm sure she's in that.

~Day17~ Copyrightability of works produced by AI

To qualify as a copyrighted work, it must contain "thoughts or sentiments" (Copyright Act, Article 2, Paragraph 1, Item 1). Simply put, thoughts mean human thoughts and sentiments mean feelings.

Moe?

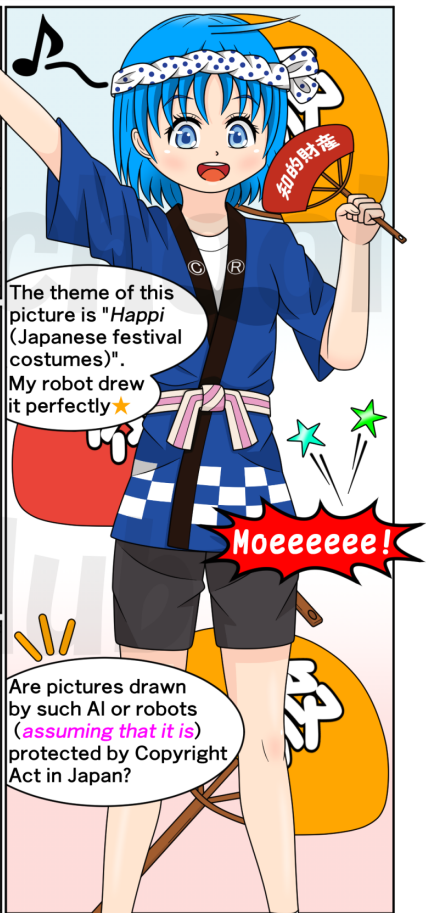

Copyrighted Works are produced by human mental activity.

In other words, only works created by humans are protected by Copyright Act...

Hey! Smoke is coming out of the robot!

Sizzle...

Moo...e...

The theme of this picture is "Happi (Japanese festival costumes)". My robot drew it perfectly★

Moeeeeeee!

Are pictures drawn by such AI or robots (assuming that it is) protected by Copyright Act in Japan?

Wearing this hat and listening to a talk on difficult copyright makes my head explode!

That picture was drawn by you, probably a human, so it falls under copyrighted work.

Don't come out because you're an AI.

Good for you.
