

I tried to apologize to her, but she would not talk to me or answer my calls.

I see. Let me help you make up with her.

If Chinako's that angry about anything other than IP infringement, I don't think you can make peace with her.

Based on a client (Kurika)'s request, I made a figure doll modeled after you are wearing a policewoman's costume.

I love the sight of a policewoman talking on the radio so much that I want her to arrest me. ♥

I have a license of "On-The-Ground 3-Category Special Radio Operator".

I gave her a walkie-talkie, so you can use this to talk to her.

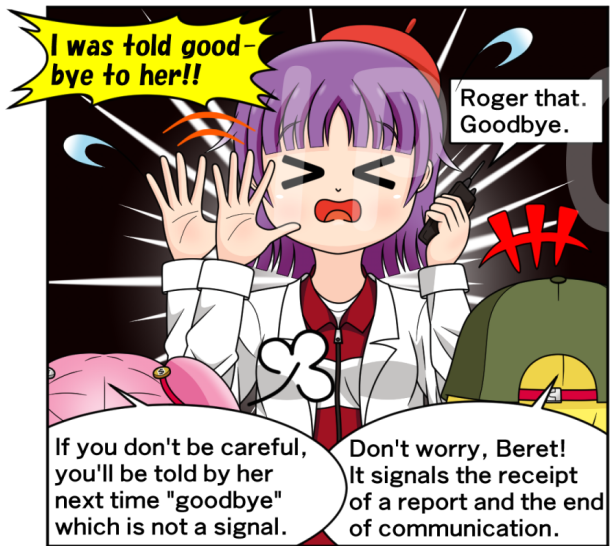

Hi! Chinako. This is Misube.

.....Misube-chan. This is Chinako. Over.

I'm going to communicate with Chinako as Tsukuru taught me.

Hey! Don't make a figure doll like this without my permission!

I was told good-bye to her!!

Roger that. Goodbye.

If you don't be careful, you'll be told by her next time "goodbye" which is not a signal.

Don't worry, Beret! It signals the receipt of a report and the end of communication.

The reason I'm angry isn't because that figure doll wasn't cute.

But she seems quite depressed, so I forgive her.

I'm really sorry about that figure doll. I'll try to make it cuter. So please forgive me this time. Over.
