

If I deposit my total assets of 10,000 yen for a month, will it increase to 20,000 yen?

There is the fixed deposit leaflet inserted in the pocket tissue I got from the bank.

Can you show me that leaflet?

Yes, I don't have enough money to print my manga to sell at the next manga event.

I heard you have money troubles, Misube-chan.

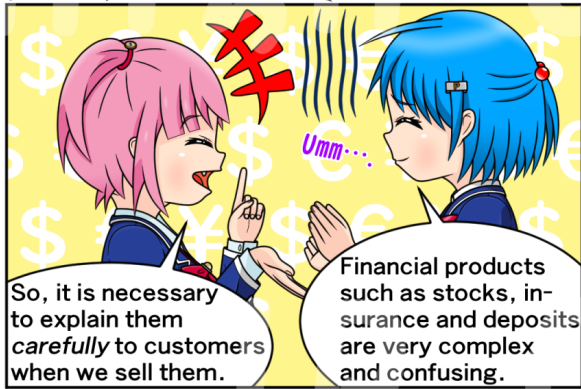

This amount is not enough for printing costs.

Great!

Since you have "3rd grade Certified Skilled Professional of Financial Services", you are quick to calculate money.

Therefore, the interest you earn is 6 JPY★

So, it is necessary to explain them carefully to customers when we sell them.

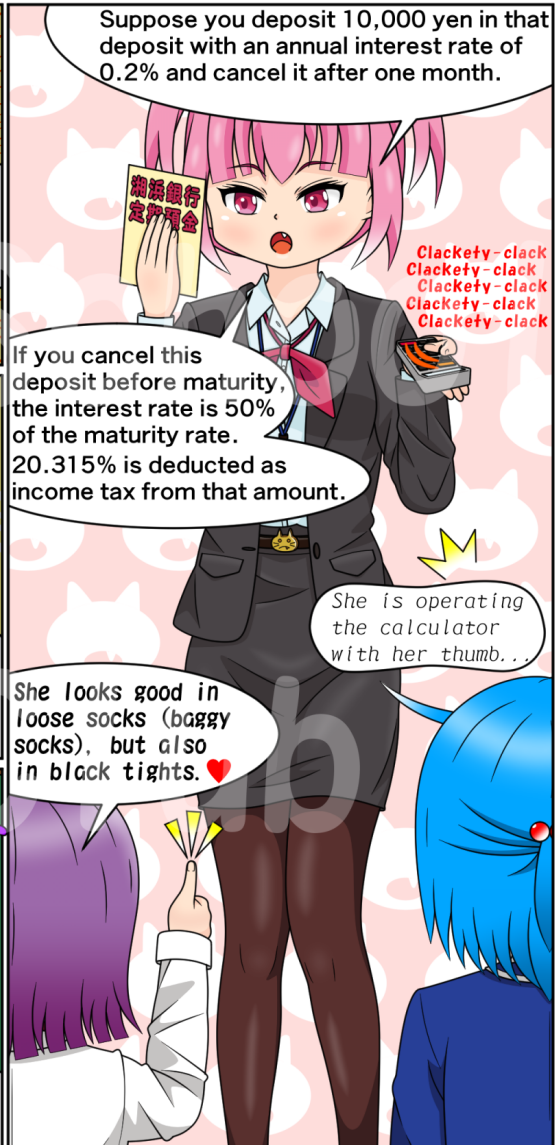

Financial products such as stocks, insurance and deposits are very complex and confusing.

Do you treat such a suspicious customer politely?

Please sell me your tights. I'll make money by reselling it to your fans.

Of course. I'll politely inform the police.★

Suppose you deposit 10,000 yen in that deposit with an annual interest rate of 0.2% and cancel it after one month.

If you cancel this deposit before maturity, the interest rate is 50% of the maturity rate. 20.315% is deducted as income tax from that amount.

She is operating the calculator with her thumb..

She looks good in loose socks (baggy socks), but also in black tights.♥
