

If we put it on the guide, our school will be profitable because there will be a lot of new students coming★ If we use your photo, this photo's copyright should not be an issue.

Our high school has a popular voice actor, Takata Kawawa♪ I have a photo of her at an event the other day.

It also includes articles related to the IP club.

Is that about me?

Her charm♥

戸締用心
萌え用心

We've created a school guide for next year.

Flick!

I think it's better not to post such ferocious creatures there.

Ha!

Don't be scared of me. C'mon!

They have the power to attract customers, "goodwill".

It is true that her photo books and merchandise are very popular♥

I'm sorry, but I'm not attracted to you...

Don't use the name and face of such celebrity commercially without her permission!

I think Japanese Copyright Act protects a voice actor's performance, but not her name or face.

Hey hey hey!

Puff-puff

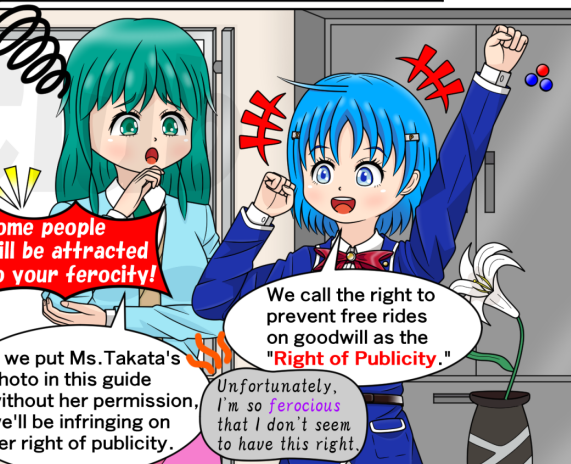

Sigh...

As the saying goes, "There's no accounting for taste."

Rude!!
Flick!!

Please give me two copies of this book, one for viewing and one for preservation.

Since you are a current student, it should not be necessary.

Some people will be attracted to your ferocity!

If we put Ms. Takata's photo in this guide without her permission, we'll be infringing on her right of publicity.

We call the right to prevent free rides on goodwill as the "Right of Publicity."

Unfortunately, I'm so ferocious that I don't seem to have this right.
